

Interactive Quiz

I storyboarded the pages for the interactive quiz using the same layout for each page:

The structure of the Quiz would be as follows:

The structure was worked out and the hyperlinks were pre-planned so that the quiz would have an interactive feel and give feedback to users on whether they were right or wrong.

Once I had discussed this with my test user, I went ahead and began implementing it.

I then tested it after completing it and asked for feedback from people in my class. Everyone really enjoyed playing it and all the comments were positive. One of the test users said that I could make the background more attractive and colourful, but I decided to stick with my original colour scheme as I felt it was very clear and easy to read.
